Allowable Subject Matter

This communication is in response to applicant's Amendment which filed August 23, 2006 in the application of Heinrich et al. for a "Method and system for storage and recovery of vital information on radio frequency transponders" filed April 14, 2004.

The amendment has been entered and made of record.

Claims 1-17 are cancelled.

Claims 38-54 are new.

Claims 18-54 are allowed.

Claims 18-37 are allowed due to Terminal Disclaimer was approved on 3/29/2007.

Referring to claim 38, the following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fail to suggest limitations that supplying energy to said power storage device of said one tag during receipt of adequate RF energy to activate said one tag, whereby said volatile information retaining device of said one tag retains information for a substantial time interval even when the supply of said RF energy is present in the field region but is no longer adequate to activate said one tag; and utilizing the volatile information retaining device to retain information that said one RF tag has been identified during a multitag identification operation.

Referring to claim 50, the following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fail to suggest limitations that for certain tags receiving sufficient RF energy, utilizing stored energy to maintain information that such tags have been identified during a substantial time interval while RF energy is being sent to the field region but adequate RF energy is not being received by the certain tags such that the certain tags retain the information that such tags have been identified during the multitag identification operation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submission should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
